

Mark McNee's Cookie policy

Like most websites markmcnee.com uses "cookies" to work effectively, these are very small files which your browser stores. These are normally automatically accepted by your browser; but that can be adjusted by settings in your browser. If you block cookies for this site, and for that matter many other websites, they may no longer work properly.

This site uses sets of cookie: one generated by the Wordpress software that powers this site, one by Google Analytics which monitors how the website is accessed and used, one by Google AdSense which provides some of the advertising and one by Amazon Associates which also provides advertising.

The Wordpress cookies are explained in the Wordpress site under WP > 3 (http://codex.wordpress.org/WordPress_Cookies).

The Google cookies are explained in on the Google website (<https://developers.google.com/analytics/resources/concepts/gaConceptsCookies>).

The Google AdSense cookies are explained in on the Google AdSense website (<http://support.google.com/adsense/bin/answer.py?hl=en-GB&answer=1348695&topic=1271507&ctx=topic>).

The Amazon Associate cookies are explained in on the Amazon Associate website (<http://www.amazon.co.uk/gp/BIT/InternetBasedAds>).

To return to my website please go to markmcnee.com.

Copyright Mark McNee © 14th March 2013